The Wholesale Power Cost Adjustment appears as a line item on members' bills. During 2010, the average homeowner saw monthly credits of anywhere from $5 to $25.

Power Cost Adjustment saved members $2-million in 2010

With WEC's billing re-design in Jan. 2010, the Wholesale Power Cost Adjustment on bills returned some $2-million in credits to WEC members -- not just as capital credits but as actual credit on their monthly electric bills. Read article.

Your town in focus . . .

Ashford

Ashford is featured in the first of an ongoing series of articles in Alabama Living magazine about the many great towns in and around the WEC service area.

"Ashford is a small town with a rich heritage dating back more than 100 years. While residents here embrace their traditions, they are also using modern methods of communication such as a website and Facebook account to keep their community connected." View magazine.

CEO blog Partnership with Habitat for Humanity

by Michael S. McWaters

It's a part of the age-old problem, those that can least afford a service are those that need it the most. In this case, what I'm talking about is making your home more energy efficient. Let's face it, it can be expensive to install insulation, change windows and doors and replace HVAC units.
